 - a. Are we on track with last year's goal? Will our carry over be less than 10%? Carrie wants to know what our biggest goal should be. Michelle Thornton explained how push-ins work in her classroom as far as Language Arts goes. She described how they do it and said they are making great improvements. Teacher's presence helps keep students on-task. Mary asked about if we use "writer's craft" for writing and reading in class. Michelle explained that her class is working on informational text right now. In this context Michelle can see which students need support. She then sends those students to small groups to get that extra support. Megan said she loves to see where her student was, where they should be and where they need to be by the end of the year.
